INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors and Members
C&C Trading, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of C&C Trading, LLC (the Company) as of December 31, 2005, and the related statements of operations and members' equity and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of C&C Trading, LLC as of December 31, 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedule 1 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Business Operations and Significant Accounting Policies

Business Operations

C&C Trading, LLC (the "Company"), a limited liability company, is a broker dealer registered and a member of the American Stock Exchange and the New York Mercantile COMEX Division. The company is a market maker in equity options and other derivatives. The company also conducts off floor trading of securities in the United States and in Europe. The Company clears its proprietary transactions through broker-dealers on a fully disclosed basis.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingencies at the date of financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investment instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Securities Transactions

Securities transactions are recorded on the trade date, as if they had been settled. Profit and loss arising from all securities and commodities transactions entered into for the account and risk of the Company are recorded on a trade date basis.

Investments are valued at market-value.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that subject the Company to concentrations of credit risks consist of its investments, foreign currencies and options. The Company maintains its foreign currency accounts at three financial institutions and its investments with one brokerage firm. The Company enters into various transactions involving derivatives and other off-balance sheet financial instruments. These financial instruments include futures, forward and foreign exchange contracts used in trading activities. Futures contracts are executed on an exchange, and cash settlement is made on a daily basis for market movements.

1. Business Operations and Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Accordingly, futures contracts generally do not have credit risk. Market risk is substantially dependent upon the value of the underlying financial instruments and is affected by market forces such as volatility and changes in interest and foreign exchanges rates.

In addition, the Company has sold securities that it does not currently own and is obligated to purchase such securities at a future date. The Company has recorded these obligations in the financial statements at December 31, 2005, at market values of the related securities and will incur a loss if the market value of the securities increases subsequent to December 31, 2005.

Income Taxes

The Company is treated as a partnership for Federal and State income tax purposes and accordingly does not record an income tax provision because members report their share of the Company's income or loss on their tax returns.

Exchange Memberships

Exchange memberships are recorded at adjusted cost or, if an other than temporary increase or decrease in value has occurred, then at such value. The market value at December 31, 2005 is $350,000. Management believes this to be a temporary increase and therefore no adjustment has been made.

2. Regulatory Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2005, the Company had net capital of approximately $4,250,000, which was approximately $4,123,000 in excess of its required net capital of $127,429.

The Company is exempt from the provisions of Rule 15c3-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in that the Company's activities are limited to those set forth in the conditions for exemption appearing in paragraph (k)(2)(ii).

3. Securities Sold Under Agreements to Purchase

Marketable securities owned and sold not yet purchased consist of trading securities at market values as follows.

	Owned	Sold Not yet Purchased
Equities	$46,793,287	$52,963,718

4. Related Party Transactions

For the year ended December 31, 2005, operating expenses charged by affiliated entities in which the Company or its members have a financial interest amounted to approximately $91,000. In the opinion of management, operating expenses were charged at rates comparable to those charged by non-affiliates.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL STRUCTURE REQUIRED BY S.E.C. RULE 17a-5

Board of Directors and Members
C&C Trading, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of the C&C Trading, LLC (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2005, we considered its internal control structure, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following areas:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons,
2. Recording of differences required by rule 17a-13,
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2005, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used by anyone other than these specific parties for any other purpose.
